Updates 2021/2022

• Simplified Criteria – Block Structure

• Current Versions – ERS-3 Tools
Current YoungStar Rating System

• YoungStar is a hybrid model where providers go through a 40-point evaluation process that consists of both required and optional points.

• The total number of points a program earns PLUS the required points a program earns makes up their overall rating.

• YoungStar uses the second version of the Environment Rating Scales to observe programs at the 4 and 5 Star levels.
2021/2022 Evaluation Criteria Changes

• Beginning with the 2021-22 Evaluation Criteria Rating, YoungStar will use an easier to understand block rating system:
  – Elimination of optional points, now your program just needs to meet the required criteria for each star level
  – Includes the current requirements for a 3 Star rating as the only areas evaluated for a 3 Star rating;
  – Includes the current requirements for a 4 and 5 Star rating, plus a few YoungStar quality practices that are currently optional, as the only areas evaluated for a 4 or 5 Star rating; and – Allows programs to focus on the areas most linked to child outcomes.

2021/2022 Environment Rating Scale (ERS) Tools

• Updated most observation tools to the 3rd editions of the Environment Rating Scales (ITERS-3, ECERS-3, FCCERS-3 along with current SACERS-U)
• Updated “cut points” for programs to allow time for transitioning to the new versions
• Creating many training around each of the updated tool versions
ERS-3: Why the change?

- Supports recent research in developmentally appropriate environments
- Emphasizes that relationships are the key ingredient in healthy, optimal child development
- Understands the connection between positive interactions and stronger educational outcomes
ECERS-3: Key Differences

• For child care classrooms that serve children ages 3 through 5 years old
• No teacher interview, just a 3-hour observation period
• Focuses on interactions
• Emphasis on how teachers use the materials that are accessible to the children
• Adds 5 new language and literacy items with more specific indicators to assess teachers' strategies for guiding language and literacy awareness
ITERS-3: Key Differences

• Expands age group, now birth through 35 months
• No teacher interview, just a 3-hour observation period
• Less items organized into 6 subscales
• Emphasis on how teachers use the materials to foster children's learning
• 6 items on Language and Books focusing on the importance of language interactions
• New item: Math
• Rescaled indicators related to personal care and safety
FCCERS-3: Key Differences

• No teacher interview, just a 3-hour observation period
• Focuses on interactions
• Emphasis on how teachers use the materials that are accessible to the children
• Six items on Language and Books; focusing on the importance of language interactions
• Six items on Interaction; highlighting the value of relationships in young children's learning and development
Embracing the ERS-3 Tools

• Meaningful learning occurs best when there is plenty of time to choose from many activities, with a teacher who brings learning out of play.

• Children are provided with opportunities to explore and apply new skills through a balance of child-initiated and teacher-initiated activities.

• Children thrive when their health and safety needs are met and healthful habits are established for a lifetime.

• Children develop good feelings about themselves and strong social skills from adults who are nurturing and use positive methods of guidance.

- Additional Information
Purpose
To ensure that the department’s rules affecting child care certification and licensing comply with the health and safety requirements in federal regulations based on the Child Care and Development Block Grant. In addition, the emergency rules regroup the department’s child care certification and licensing rules that address the same topics in different places, eliminate duplicative provisions, correct errors, and clarify language where needed to ensure proper implementation and administration of the health and safety requirements.
