

The Budget Process in Wisconsin

Wisconsin has a biennial budget. This means that the state budget usually includes information about how money will be spent for a two-year period, from July of an odd numbered year through June of the next odd-numbered year. For example, the 2021-23 budget runs from July 2021 through June 2023.

To familiarize yourself with the state budget process, we've outlined the steps below.
